Maple5 launch Quorum Labs in the UK

Quorum Labs delivers “One Click”, Enterprise Class, HA and DR Solution for the Mid Market

Reading, June 16, 2011 – Maple5 Ltd, a distributor and market maker for overseas technology companies, has announced the launch of the Quorum Labs range of onQ™ High Availability and aDisaster Recovery appliances into the UK market.

The QuorumLabs onQ solution integrates a number of sophisticated technologies into a simple, all-in-one appliance and maintains ready-to-run, up-to-date virtual machine clones of all critical systems to give mid market IT staff instant recovery. onQ goes beyond online backup and makes complete business continuity easy and affordable – without the complexity or cost of traditional enterprise solutions.

“This is a totally new way of looking at HA and DR. The onQ solution removes the need for redundant servers and SANs and expensive off site replication points allowing smaller and medium sized businesses to achieve the security and reliability normally reserved for larger organisations with large IT teams and large budgets,” says Dan Power, managing director at Maple5 Ltd.

“onQ provides the best out-of-the-box experience in the industry with its simplified ‘zero configuration, zero typing’ installation so that businesses can begin complete system protection within minutes,” said Robert Habibi, president and CEO, QuorumLabs. “This is a huge benefit for small and mid-sized companies without IT staff resources. Now, customers can enjoy both easy installation, as well as One-Click Recovery™ from any storage, server or complete site failure.”

onQ’s latest version also delivers complete automated testing that delivers a daily report showing not only that backups completed but that the recovery servers were all run and verified.
